THE NEW KING

By Liliana (Y6)

Over the weekend, the UK celebrated the Coronation of King Charles III. Many people from across the world attended the ceremony, while many more watched in the streets of London and at home.

Below is an image of the invitations that were sent out. The invitations, which were printed on recycled paper, were sent out to over 2000 guests. At the bottom of the invitation you can see a figure called the "green man". This image was used to reflect the King's many years of environmental campaigning.

WORD AWARE

By Madisyn (Y6)

Object: A statement expressing disapproval or opposition.

"I object! I was only parked for 5 minutes."

SCIENCE ARTICLE

By Kelsi (Y6)

We have all seen plants and know that they need food, water and light to grow. They also use their leaves for photosynthesis. This creates oxygen and energy. Cactuses are a bit different as they don't use leaves. Instead they use their stems. They also have spines so that the water cannot evaporate off them, and instead the water rolls down them and into the soil which is where the roots collect it.

FACT FILE ARTICLE

By Beaux (Y5)

Here are some facts about Stitch:

- Stitch is also known as experiment 626.
- There are 2 aliens that are similar to Stitch. A pink one called Angel and a red one called Leroy. Leroy is the bad one!
- Stitch loves the singer Elvis. Stitch dresses up as Elvis a lot and loves listening to his music.
