

MOORPARK NEWSLETTER

SEPTEMBER 2025

Welcome back to another academic year at Moorpark Junior School!

Over the next year, we will all be learning new things and developing our skills. We will also be taking part in different events such as Business Enterprise Fayre and we will also be going on different trips.

Soon, after school clubs will commence and children can take part in sport, drama and other exciting clubs.

Breaktimes are also changing this year! We have new equipment and the library is now open during lunch.

WOW WORD

COLOSSAL

(Adjective - describing word)

Extremely large. It used to describe something impressively big.

"They stood in the shadow of the colossal building."

ECO COUNCIL'S TOP TIPS

- Bring a reusable waterbottle to school! Having a reusable one means you aren't throwing plastic away too often.
- If a sheet of paper still has space on it, put it in your scrap paper drawer. It can be reused by other children.

SUPER SCIENCE SECTION

Mae Jemison

Mae Jemison is an American engineer, physician and a former NASA astronaut. In 1992, She became the first ever African-American woman to travel into space.

As a child, she enjoyed observing humans and nature, which led to her interest in science. When she was younger, she would also watch astronauts on television. She felt irritated that a woman had not yet gone into space. This fueled her desire to become a female astronaut.
